

MEET AMY JOHNSON

Bring Amy's story of being a pioneer aviator alive in your classroom...

Amy tells the children about her life & ambition to become a pilot.

They learn about her most famous expedition & step back into it with her, through drama, visuals & storytelling.

They explore the astounding courage & determination required to enter the world of aviation as a woman, at that time in history.

They look at what planes & air travel were like back then - a world without technology!

Amy comes out of character to conclude the story about her death, the mystery surrounding this & the legacy of her memory.

Half day: £150.00

Full day: £250.00

Various class combination options available.

E: janet@journeysforlearning.co.uk